

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Spring is finally upon us, and with it comes a sense of renewal that feels especially welcome this time of year. As the days grow longer and the sun lingers a little later in the evening sky, we're reminded that fresh starts aren't just for January. Spring invites us to open the windows, let in the fresh air, clear out the old, and make space for new ideas and opportunities.

It's a season of growth, not only in our gardens and landscapes, but also within our homes, our communities, and ourselves. There's something energizing about this time of year as the snow melts away and signs of life begin to return. It encourages us to take a moment to reset, reflect, and look ahead to what the months to come may hold.

Take the time to learn something new, clear away clutter and items you no longer use, or reconnect with someone you haven't spoken to in a while. Even small, intentional actions can have a meaningful impact. Whether it's refreshing a space in your home, starting a new project, or simply enjoying a walk in the longer evening light, these moments help us embrace the season ahead.

Small steps like these can lift the spirit and help you step into spring feeling lighter, refreshed, and ready for all the possibilities a new season brings.
