Brandon's, Windsor Plywood has an outstanding amount of exotic woods. Woods from all over the world. Many hobbyists shop here to get something a bit different for that custom one-of-a-kind project they are working on. Some of the many exotic woods throughout the store are aromatic cedar, bloodwood, lacewood, purpleheart, tigerwood, yellowheart, and zebrawood to name a few. If you are a wood carver you can take advantage of some of their carving woods as well such as basswood, butternut, tupelo, padauk, and even one a bit more well-known, walnut.

Here you can find a good assortment of plywood. Baltic birch, birch, maple, walnut, mahogany, bending plywoods, marine, and more. There are many options from cabinet building, boat building, furniture building, and yes even a good selection of construction-grade plywood too.

What truly does make Windsor Plywood Brandon so much different than other finishing stores?

Their customer service is excellent, they help their customer from start to finish of their projects, and they even enjoy seeing the end results of projects.

They offer a wood shop in the back. Anything that your mind can imagine, they can help you complete. A lot of stairs are built there, doors are machined, butcher blocks are made, and so much more. The staff even finished a huge 20' spalted maple live edge front counter there for the store. You can see it as soon as you enter the store, right up front.

They host events for the local community to partake in. Here you get the chance to BOTH enter or see projects done by locals! Once participants are fully entered and projects are on display, go give the store a visit to vote for your favourite project! These events include things like wood carving, scroll saw, wood turning, and more. Watch their social media pages for when these events take place. (Facebook Windsor Plywood, Brandon)

They have even been known to host after-hour events for customers who want to work with ecopoxy, but are a little hesitant to do a project their first time. The staff at Windsor Plywood are very knowledgeable and can walk you through every step.
